

What is Advanced Use of Force Training?

All Security Guards in Ontario must receive basic Use of Force Theory instruction as part of their mandatory 40hr licencing course.

Advanced Use of Force training includes both Handcuff and Baton certification and encompasses both in-class Theory and hands-on, Practical skills demonstration.

Who Needs Use of Force Training?

Pursuant to the Private Security & Investigative Services Act, S.O 2005, any licenced Security Guard or Private Investigator who is authorized by their company to carry and use handcuffs and/or a baton must successfully complete qualified training. This includes security guards, bouncers, private investigators and loss prevention.

Employers also have an additional responsibility under the Occupational Health & Safety Act (OHSA) to ensure that they take every precaution reasonable for the protection of the worker. This includes security guards working in areas where there may be a risk to their personal safety.

3 MANDATORY QUESTIONS YOU NEED TO ASK WHEN SELECTING A UOF TRAINING PROVIDER?

- 1 Are They Accredited?
- 2 Are They Certified?
- 3 Do They Have The Right Experience?

Liability & Risk Exposure

Is Your Company At Risk?

The Danger of Having Unqualified Use of Force Instruction

The nature of security brings with it a certain amount of inherent risk exposure for employers. However, many do not recognize the increased risk of having unqualified instruction when it comes to Use of Force.

Simply having someone who has taken a basic self-defence course, train-the-trainer or introductory training in Use of Force equipment does not constitute qualified instruction. Nor does someone with a martial arts or military background who has never worked in law enforcement.

The absence of a working knowledge and practical experience in arrest procedures and crisis intervention exposes security guards and employers to significant liability in a due diligence challenge. This can include fines, licence suspension, criminal charges or even a civil lawsuit.

Under the Occupational Health & Safety Act (OHSA), employers can also be found liable if an investigation identifies a lack of proper training and instruction.

Use of Force training requires professional instructors who are not only certified, but have the skills and practical experience in the application, instruction and defence of Use of Force options.

*Canada's Leader In Security
Education and Training*

Canadian Security Training Is A Registered Training Provider

Qualified Instruction

Train With The Best

As the leader in security education and training, Canadian Security Training sets the standard for Use of Force training. All of our UOF Instructors are either former or currently serving UOF police Instructors who have taught at the Ontario, Canadian, Toronto or OPP Police Colleges, as well as in-service.

Through one-on-one, hands-on instruction, students gain firsthand knowledge and practical experience from instructors with court recognized expertise in Use of Force. Using our proprietary DEFENSE™ training program, students receive thorough in-class education and practical skills training in proper Use of Force Theory, Techniques and Defensive Tactics.

UOF Standards Committee

Setting The Standard

As part of our commitment to professional training standards, Canadian Security Training has formed a Use of Force Standards Committee. Chaired by the Director of Education and Training, the UOF Standards Committee is comprised of five members from the UOF training unit.

Based on PSISA guidelines, they are responsible for the oversight of setting UOF policy and the design and regular review of all education and training programs and materials. This includes maintaining regular contact with the Ministry and various Police Training Colleges, staying current on all legislative changes and ensuring best practice compliance. In addition, the UOF Committee sets the recruitment and training standards for all UOF Instructors with Canadian Security Training, as well as selection and approval of all UOF equipment.

Benefits

Canadian Security Training provides the most comprehensive UOF training programs in the private security industry. Our structured UOF programs not only meet minimum legislative requirements, but exceed industry standards.

For company owners, having Canadian Security Training co-ordinate and manage the UOF training program ensures a professional and consistent training standard. One that can withstand a due diligence challenge in court. Our commitment to best practices focuses on mitigating risk exposure for our clients through accredited, certified and experienced instruction.

- ✓ Ministry Registered Training Provider
- ✓ Certified UOF Instructors
- ✓ Court Recognized UOF Experts
- ✓ Professional Theory and Practical Instruction
- ✓ Consistent Training Standards
- ✓ Full Academic Tracking
- ✓ Critical Incident Response Team (CIRT)
- ✓ Court Prep

Setting The Standard

UOF Curriculum

The Advanced Use of Force courses include:

- Use of Force Theory
- Arrest Procedures
- Defensive Tactics
- Tactical Communication & De-escalation
- Officer Safety
- Edged Weapon Safety Awareness
- Drug Paraphernalia Safety
- Mental Health Awareness & PTSD
- Note Taking
- Use of Force Reports
- Equipment Use & Care
- Practical Skills Evaluation

The UOF program is modelled after the standard law enforcement UOF initial and recurrent training programs. Students learn firsthand knowledge and effective defensive tactics, including Krav Maga and Jiu Jitsu based techniques by certified Gracie Survival Tactics instructors.

As part of their training, all students are required to successfully complete JDAS (Judgement and Decision-Making Assessment Scenarios). An opportunity to test their knowledge and evaluate learned skills.

Initial 2-Day Certification:

Mandatory two-day Initial Advanced Use of Force training course, including Handcuff and Baton certification.

Annual 1-Day Re-Certification:

One-day Handcuff and Baton re-certification for students who have successfully completed the Initial 2-Day certification within the last twelve months with Canadian Security Training.

Register For UOF Training

QUALIFICATION

In order to qualify for the Advanced UOF courses, applicants must hold a valid Ontario Security Guard licence, including Emergency First Aid.

LOCATION

All Use of Force training is conducted at one of three UOF Skills Training Centres. Equipped with professional lecture rooms and fully-equipped Practical training facilities, students get an opportunity to learn in a professional environment.

EQUIPMENT

While participants are permitted to bring service-issued UOF equipment, Canadian Security Training provides all UOF equipment for students. The course includes complete UOF manuals, as well as day-use duty belts, handcuffs, batons, kick pads and mats.

CERTIFICATES

Upon successful completion of the Advanced UOF courses, students receive a certified wall certificate, as well as wallet cards. Both a hard-copy and electronic copy of all certificates are kept on file.

E-TRAC

All students receive full academic support, including student file, training E-record and re-certification reminders through Canadian Security Training's custom E-TRAC software.

OTHER SERVICES

Canadian Security Training also provides additional services including:

SECURITY & HEALTH AND SAFETY AUDITS

This includes the SECAS security agency compliance audit, as well as the TMAS Health & Safety audit. Providing company owners with a comprehensive review of current compliance standing and areas requiring attention. Ultimately, assisting organizations in meeting and maintaining mandatory legislative compliance standards.

SECURITY POLICIES AND STANDING ORDERS

Whether large or small, Canadian Security Training can design and write policies for any size of organization. This includes operational policies, standing orders, post orders, as well as accompanying record and document management systems.

HEALTH AND SAFETY TRAINING

As part of mandatory employee orientation and training, Canadian Security Training can also design, implement and manage a complete Health & Safety program that meets all Federal and Provincial legislative requirements, including Health & Safety Policies, Workplace Violence, WHMIS, Hazard Awareness, First Aid/CPR and Accessibility For Ontarians With Disabilities.

HUMAN RESOURCES SUPPORT

Whether designing an employee interview process to performance reviews or full HR support, including HR file management, WSIB and ESRTW management. Canadian Security Training can provide full and part-time administrative support.

RECRUITING & EMPLOYMENT SERVICES

Recruiting, screening and interviewing employees can be extremely time-consuming and expensive. Whether hiring full or part-time, casual or for an event. Canadian Security Training can provide fully screened and qualified security guards that are job ready. This includes all PSISA mandated training, licencing and mandatory Health & Safety training.

UOF Equipment Sales

One Stop Shopping

Knowing what equipment to purchase can be extremely frustrating, time-consuming and very expensive. With so many brands available how do you know what equipment to buy? You need equipment that is reliable, durable and ensures a consistent and professional appearance at all times.

FRONTLINE PRODUCTS and EQUIPMENT

At Canadian Security Training, we can provide complete security equipment and duty supplies through our security and law enforcement division FRONTLINE. From duty notebooks, handcuffs and batons to duty-belt equipment, jackets and more. We offer an extensive inventory of name brand products and equipment. Our convenient ordering process provides a variety of payment options and door-to-door delivery.

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

Canadian Security Training

191 Queensway West

Simcoe, Ontario

N3Y 2M8

T: 519-428-9493

E: info@canadiansecuritytraining.ca

Visit us online at:

canadiansecuritytraining.ca